Allocation Process

How Houses Are Allocated

Allocation is conducted through a fair, transparent, and auditable process aligned to program criteria. The process considers:

Factor	Description
Deposit Timing	When the required deposit was reached
Family Status	Marital status, number of dependants
Social Factors	Vulnerable groups, persons with disabilities
Demand	Demand across housing categories
Project Terms	Terms and conditions applicable to private-sector projects

Allocation Steps

Registration

Potential home buyers register on the housing portal

Pre-Qualification

ID verification, income verification, credit profile

3Contributions

Statutory and voluntary savings for deposit

4Qualification

KRA registered, continuous saving, need assessment

5Allocation

Preference of location and housing typology, 5% deposit saved

6Move In

TPS/Mortgage/Cash Sale, sign agreements

Grouping and Profiling

Profiling Process

- Applicants are profiled based on questions (marital status, children, etc.)
- Groupings are used to determine the most comprehensive grouping
- The groupings then have draws from which individuals are awarded homes
- The objective is to ensure housing projects have minimum attributes of diversity

Special Groups

The allocation process caters to special groups such as:

Police Officers*Nurses*Doctors*Teachers*Essential Service Workers
